Brooke Hogan, daughter of pro-wrestler Hulk Hogan and one of the stars of VH1's Hogan Knows Best, is heading to Town Center at Cobb on Friday, August 10, for the Simon DTour Live concert.

The shopping mall, located in Kennesaw, Georgia, is hosting the free event, which is geared towards teenagers. Organizers said that the event will give the audience the opportunity to not only hear live music from different bands and solo artists, but also try out the latest trends in fashion and technology. Sprint will be displaying the newest line in cellphone technology and accessories, while Company 81 will offer a sneak peek into its latest apparel.

Having recently signed with Storch Music Company and released her debut album, Undiscovered, Brooke Hogan is well on her way to achieving her pop star aspirations. She began her musical journey at the tender age of 13, when her parents had her meet record executive Lou Pearlman. Pearlman gave her some time to mature and improve, and in 2002, Hogan signed with Trans Continental Records. Since then, she has worked hard on developing her music career, with her first single, About Us, debuting on the second season finale of Hogan Knows Best.

Brooke Hogan's parents have been very supportive of her chosen career path, but now, she is contemplating leaving home to further pursue her music. This, along with dating older men, is among the key storylines in the current season of Hogan Knows Best, which airs every Sunday night at 9:30pm on VH1.

After the concert at Town Center, Brooke Hogan will continue touring with Simon DTour in the following areas: Orland Square Mall in Orland Park, Illinois, Northgate Mall in Seattle, Washington, Tacoma Mall in Tacoma, Washington and Laguna Hills Mall in Laguna Hills, California. All events will begin at 3pm.
